LUMA respectfully submits that, although the Puerto Rico Electric Power Authority (PREPA) is the named party to the Power Purchase and Operating Agreements (PPOAs), LUMA maintains direct and ongoing communications with each independent power producer (IPP) regarding all matters pertinent to operational decisions and those that may affect the reliability and stability of the electric system, including matters of Force Majeure.

For these reasons, LUMA has submitted formal notices to the IPPs advising that all notices required under the PPOAs must be addressed not only to PREPA, but also to LUMA. Most recently, on August 21, 2026, LUMA issued official notifications to the IPPs informing them of a change in the designated point of contact for such notices and providing the updated contact information. Specifically, the IPPs were notified that any notices to be provided or addressed to PREPA pursuant to the applicable notice provisions of the PPOAs shall also be sent to LUMA at the address and contact information specified in said notifications, and that any notices not so sent would be deemed not made in accordance with the PPOAs.

The following IPPs received said notices:
